Interview With Our Principal

The co-editors of the yearbook staff interviewed our principal to find out what had been planned for the 1975-76 school year and what things this year made it different from other years.

When asked, "What improvements were made towards the school's program this past year?" Mr. Preaskorn replied that as an outgrowth of Middle States Evaluation last year an assembly committee was set up consisting of faculty members and a student representative. The purpose of the committee was to make assemblies more relevant to the students.

New driver's education textbooks were purchased to make the course offered at the school more up-to-date. The faculty tried to work closely with the Student Council by putting the treasurer on the finance committee.

Mr. James D. Preaskorn discussed various school issues with a Middle States evaluator.

The next question which was asked was, "What Bicentennial related events happened in the school?" Mr. Preaskorn answered that the entire May Day program for this year was based on the Bicentennial theme. A Bicentennial scholarship was offered this year by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. In addition to this they endorsed several Bicentennial essays and debates.

There were also other new events which took place this year at Mount Savage High School but were not necessarily related to the Bicentennial. A Soccer-Rama, in which all the Western Maryland Interscholastic League teams participated, was held on the school's athletic field in November. A Senior Citizens' lunch program was established for the purpose of making the school more community oriented.

In closing, Mr. Preaskorn stated, "I feel that the students took school more seriously this year; there was not as much distrust towards the administration. There was more trust in that we were not going to make decisions that affected students without them having some say. I think that students had more pride about their school this year."

CLASS OFFICERS - Vera Hott, Pres.;
Diana Dunn, V. Pres.; Kathy Bittner,
Sec.; Debi Mallozzi, Treas.

The Senior Class of 1976 was greatly satisfied with the achievements they made in their high school experiences and were very excited about what the future held for them.

Ninth grade began their journey with many new experiences. They began to participate in sports with soccer, basketball, and baseball for the boys and volleyball and basketball for the girls. The girls also could "try out" for major-ttes and cheerleaders.

Class officers were elected for the first time in the tenth grade with Mark Wilson, pres.; Chuck Snyder, v. pres.;
Veri Geiger, sec.; and Sandy Lowery, treas. Class meetings, class dues, class rings . . . all were new to them.
Many students took Driver's Education. The year was highlighted with the first dance: The Sophomore Hop; the theme was "Midnight Persuasion" and the band was Beggar's Farm.

Janet McKenzie led the junior class as pres. with the help of Vera Hott, v. pres.; Rocky Helmick, sec.; and Penny Glass, treas. They had a class play and a prom.

Diana Dunn and Penny Glass were aides on Visitation Day.

Their senior year proved to be the busiest and most exciting of all. The class officers arranged for the class pictures to be taken. Then they were ordered, signed and distributed to their classmates. Next, came the ordering of caps, gowns, and announcements for graduation. But there were better things to look forward to - the selecting of senior favorites, the Senior-Faculty basketball game, the prom, and the senior party.

Their journey was not complete, for there was one more mile to travel - the walk across the stage to receive the certificate of graduation, a great and memorable accomplishment in their lives.

Spirited Sophomores Worked . . .

When you become a sophomore things change. You order your class rings and attend your first formal dance. You learn that you have to work for what you want; the sophomores of 1975-76 did all of these things.

This year the sophomores had a wide variety of class rings to choose from. The Balfour Company allowed the students to have many different symbols engraved in their rings. By doing this the sophomores had the chance to express themselves in their own way.

The Sophomore Hop was held on April 24, 1976. This was the sophomore's main event as a class. They worked hard to raise money for their dance, sponsored a car wash, showed the movie, THE COMPUTER WORE TENNIS SHOES, and charged class dues.

Freshmen

Steppin'

Up

We worked, we strived, and now we are at the top of the little guys; we were finally at the front of the lunch line. This was the first year of inter-school sports; we jumped at the chance to participate in our school's activities. We did not have class officers; we will have them next year. We are the Freshman Class steppin' up to the senior high.

DETERMINATION

Is a Key Word
for the 8th
Grade

Throughout the year determination and enthusiasm always managed to keep our 8th grade on the right path. They not only demonstrated their determination in scholastic achievements, but also in sports. The girls won the 8th grade volleyball tournament, while the boys managed to win some games in the Basketball Recreation League. This was certainly a boost of spirit as they continued through the school year.

Seventh Graders Found Individuality

The seventh grade is a year for "finding yourself" as the seventh graders learned this year. As they came together from elementary schools they met new friends, and attended classes with different teachers - which brought individuality to the students' lives. The most important thing learned in entering junior high was that each person could be different and still be valued as an individual.

Anticipating Junior High

38 Classes

This year's sixth grade was very busy; some of the students served as patrolmen to make the school safer for younger children. Many students studied the climates while others studied the heart and the metric system. Many of their art masterpieces were displayed on the bulletin board in the lobby. All the sixth graders are excitedly looking forward to entering jr. high school as seventh graders.

Elisa Phillips reads her latest hypnosis lesson while Tim Perry listens to the pleas of Becky Snyder in the Class of '76's Junior Class Play "Little Acorns."

The Junior Class Play is produced to provide funds for the junior class and afford students the opportunity to experience drama production and acting.

This year, everybody tried to fill a dramatic role in school - even one of our youngest teachers, Mr. John Jackson.

Drama — To Explore the Soul and Little Theater was organized to give those people who enjoy dramatics an opportunity to perform as well as learn something about the theater. Many insights of acting are gained from performing several one-act plays. Guest speakers who are concerned are invited to speak to the group.

Info

This year the seventy-six yearbook staff emphasized the "Year of Spirit," as a theme. The members of the Arrowhead Staff, working and striving for success, uncovered some really unusual experiences. They learned to face the many complications that they met - one at a time. Finally they coped with their obstacles and came up with the seventy-six ARROWHEAD, especially created for the graduating class in the year of spirit.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Becky Helmick and Duane Matthews learn, as Business Manager Bev Uhl and Subscription Manager Diana Dunn work.

BELOW: Chuck Boyer, Rick Zimmerman, and Penny Glass combined their efforts to produce another page of the ARROWHEAD.

Mrs. Sigler approved the final copy.

The school newspaper, WARRIOR, provided a medium for student recognition, information, and an outlet for student writing. It also provided a learning situation for publication techniques. The newspaper took on a new "look" this year. For the first time in many years the newspaper had a news page, editorial page, feature page, and sports page. The staff acquainted the students with the feats of outstanding students and provided interesting information concerning the Bicentennial. The staff attended a major news convention.

Lauree Faulkner assisted Donald Morgan on the Berkeley Health Project.

The elementary learned the fundamentals of basketball.

The elementary students enjoyed their recess period while playing Greek dodge ball.

The highlight of my day.

Mark Bridges and Anna Lancaster taught information concerning George Calvert to the elementary classes.

Hidden talents were revealed as these students performed for the elementary student body.

Fred Murphy displayed his talents during the "First Settlers" play.

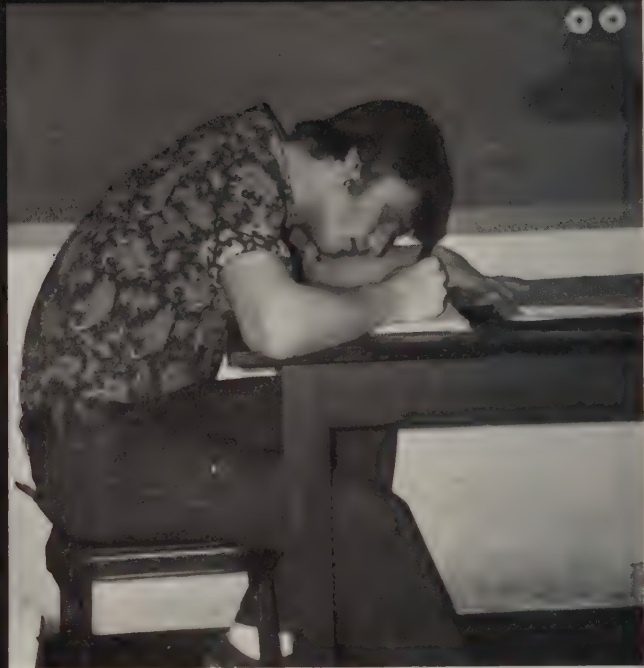

The goal of the Berkeley Project is that children will practice health habits which will help to prevent diseases of the respiratory system and other health problems. Miss Clites and Miss Berti's students were involved in the program this year.

After much preparation a snowman cake was enjoyed by the kindergarten students.

Miss Alice Mulligan volunteered her services again this year as library aide to Miss Faherty; she proved to be a great asset as she performed numerous jobs and was always willing to help students and teachers.

Dave Winebrenner was found in study hall seriously preparing for his next period class.

This year's Model Club proudly displayed some of the cars that they built.

Our Faculty???

Did you ever wonder what our teachers do after 3:30 p.m.? Each of them have a variety of pastimes which they enjoy. These members of our faculty were caught by the camera "off the job."

Rewards of Scholastic Achievement

Chris Crump and Becky Helmick represented our school in the District Bicentennial Youth Debates held at Frostburg State College on November 19, 1975. Becky placed first and went on to compete in the sectional competition held in Hagerstown, Md., where she received a copy of the Declaration of Independence and a $50.00 savings bond as a third place winner in the state.

This was the first year that three people from our school were selected for All-State Chorus. Janet McKenzie, Becky Ford, and Becky Snyder participated in this event held in Baltimore, Md., on October 15-17.

Debbie Skenandore, Libi Williams, Annette Mulligan, and Becky Helmick received awards from the VFW members for their bicentennial essays entitled "What Our Bicentennial Heritage Means to Me."

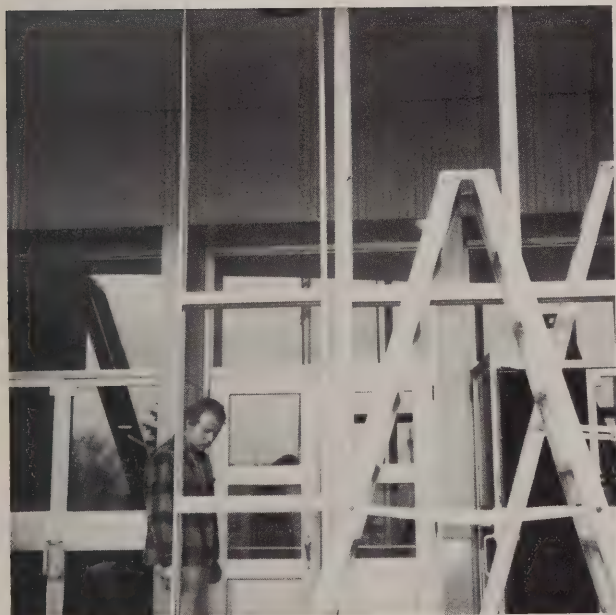

Vera Hott won the Daughters of American Revolution award after putting forth much effort answering questions which pertained to our nation.

A Look Inside the School

Mrs. Hazel Often helped serve lunch for students and faculty at school; Hazel always added a friendly smile or a little joke with every meal.

Many new improvements were added to the school this year. A new set of doors were installed at the front of the school.

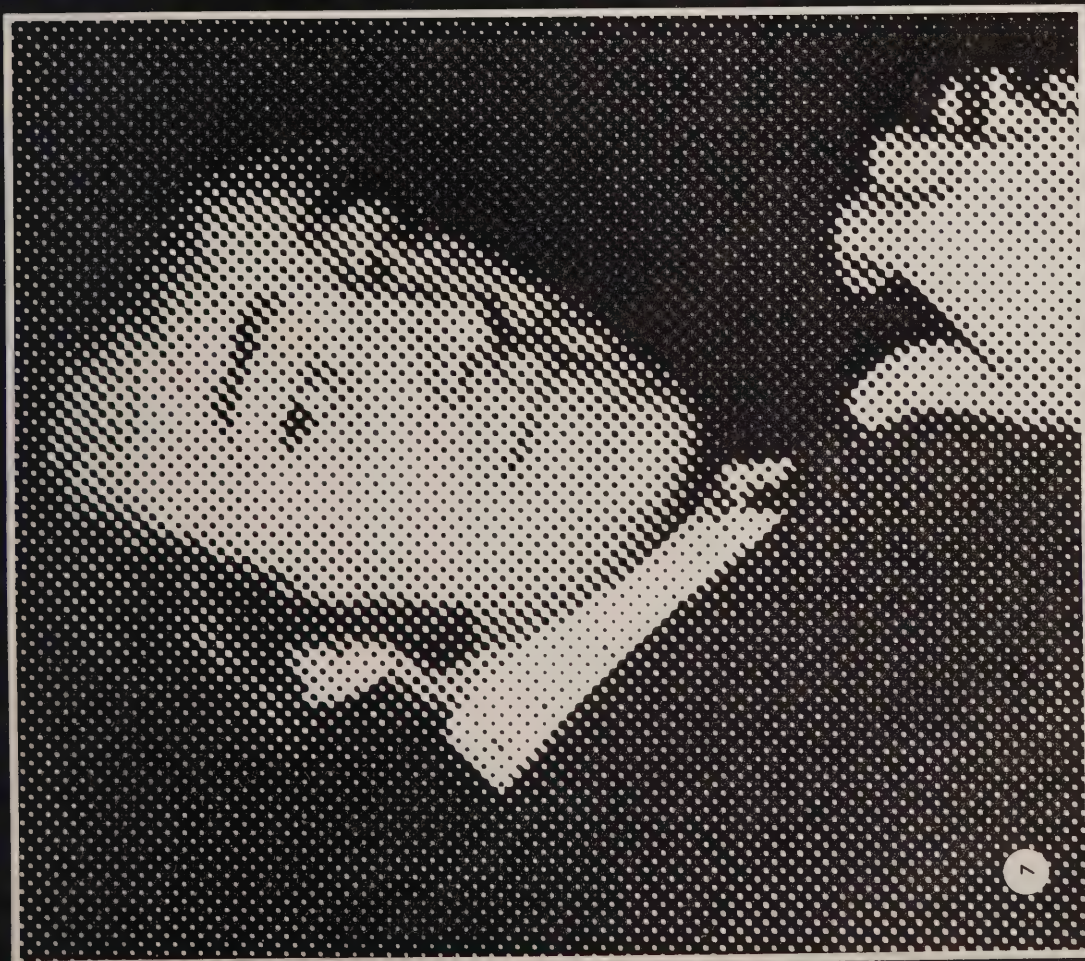

Various school groups held dances to raise money. With help from the Student Council many groups profited. "Crunch" was one of the bands that played for the dances.

Mount Savage students enjoyed a new gym floor after waiting patiently for the old one to be replaced.

Tina Malloy and Bob Morgan were two of the many spectators who watched the Soccerama which was held at Mt. Savage for the first time.

Cathy Baker helped the Home Economics Department with the nursery school classes.

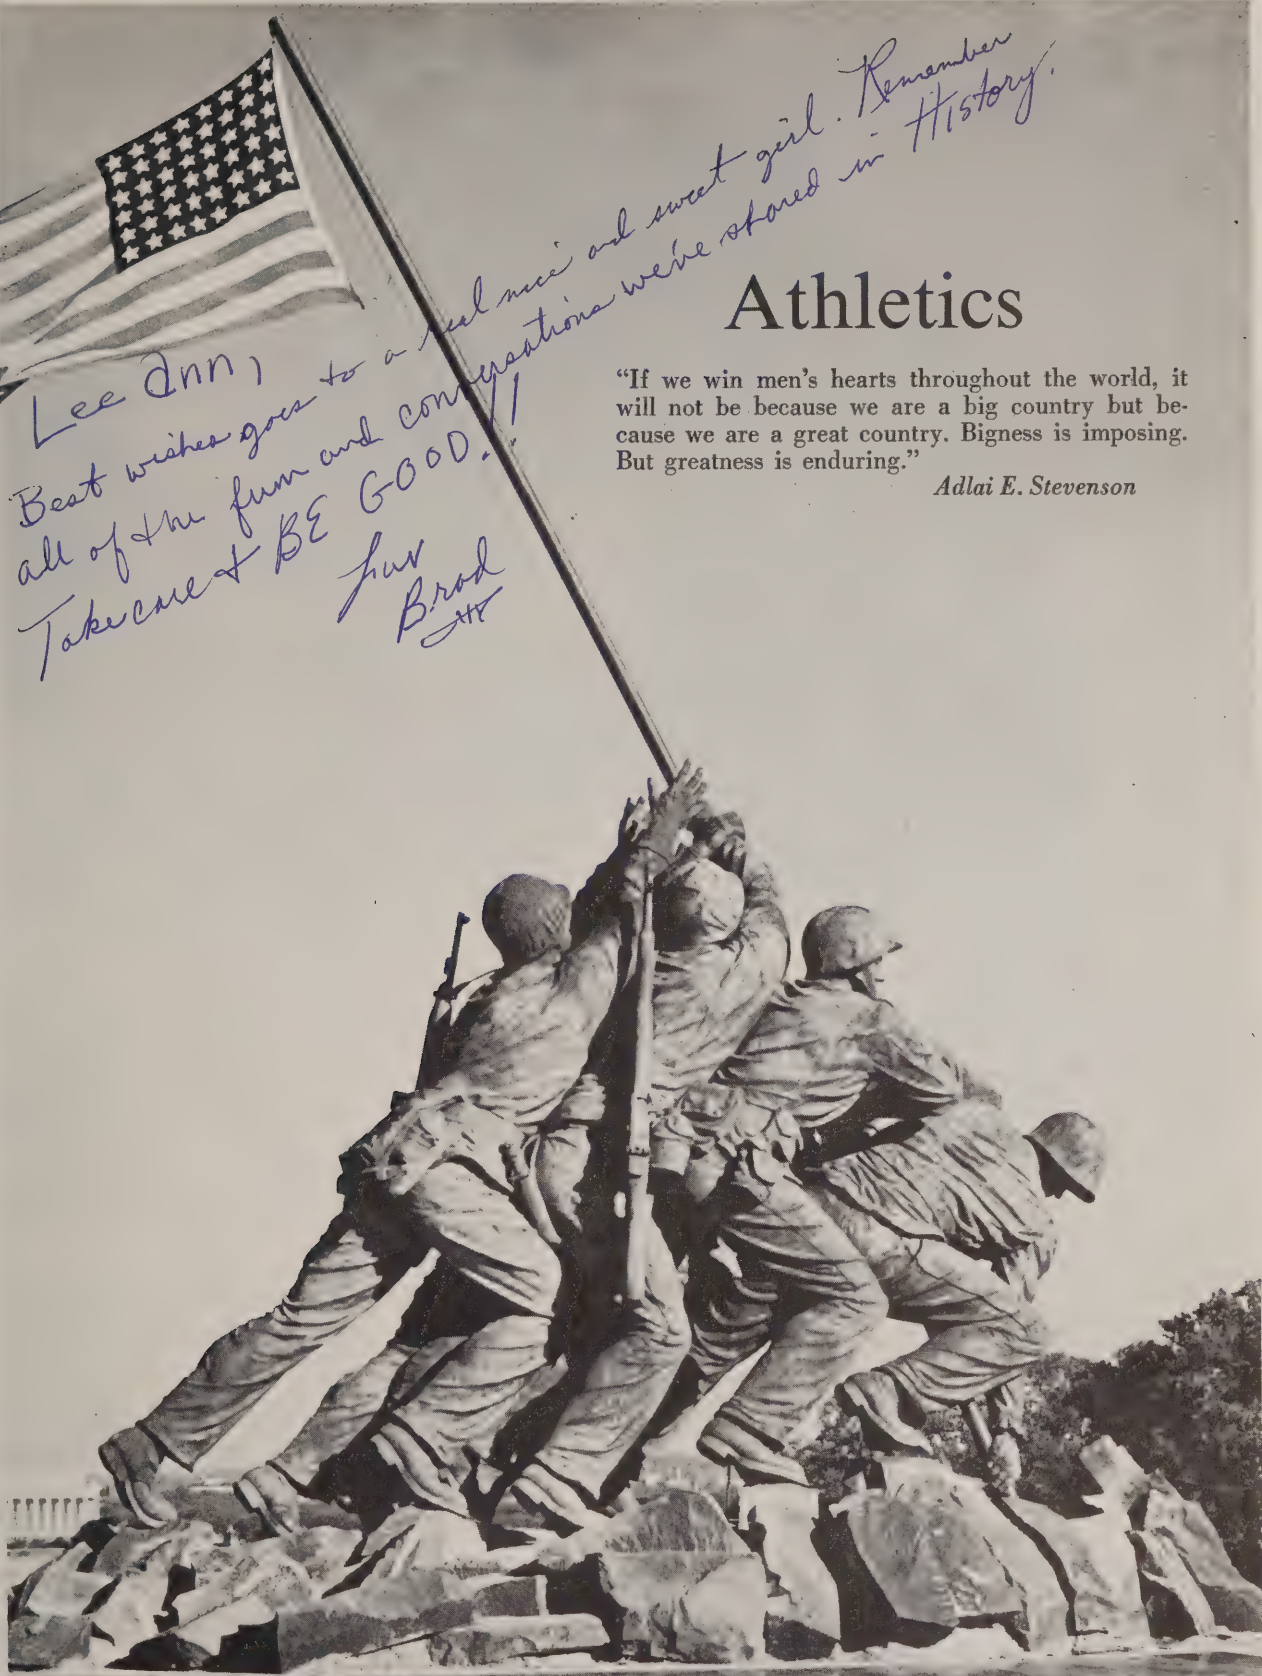

Rosalie Preston was one of the many office aides who assisted in the office this year.

The Thrill of Victory

This year the soccer team shared the Western Maryland Interscholastic League Championship with Beall High School. The boys had a very impressive record of 7-0-3. They won the District Class C title; then they lost to Walkersville in a state play-off game. The boys improved greatly after losing most of their starters from the previous year. They proved that with determination and goals success is accomplished. Randy Kessell, Chuck Snyder, Ken Winebrenner, and Bob Morgan were chosen first team All-W.M.I.

A large group of students, mostly young men and women, are posed outdoors for a group photograph. They are arranged in several rows, with some standing and others sitting or kneeling in the front. The students are dressed in casual attire typical of the mid-1970s, including sweaters, t-shirts, and jeans. The background shows some trees and a bright, slightly overcast sky. The overall tone of the photograph is nostalgic and candid.

We gather for the last time as a class —
the class of 1976 — to reflect on the happiness
we have shared and to anxiously look toward the future. We will always look back on 1976 as —

“The Year of Spirit.”

Congratulations 1976
graduates - may this Bicentennial year
bring you future
success.

We fought with enthusiasm to
get where we are today,
And we greet tomorrow
with the same spirit

 Remember the snap

 Remember the goody
